Aboriginal Peoples and the Law

A Critical Introduction
JAMES REYNOLDS

April 2018 224pp
9780774880213 PB £25.99
UBC Press

As part of the process of healing and reparation, the Truth and Reconciliation Commission urged a better understanding of Aboriginal law for all Canadians. This book responds to that call, outlining significant legal developments in straightforward, non-technical language. Reynolds provides the historical context needed to understand the relationship between Indigenous peoples and settlers and explains key topics such as sovereignty, treaties, fiduciary duties, the honour of the Crown, Aboriginal rights and title, the duty to consult, Indigenous laws, and international declarations. He concludes that rather than leaving the judiciary to sort out essentially political issues, politicians need to take responsibility for this crucial aspect of building a just society.

Remote Freedoms

Politics, Personhood, and Human Rights in Aboriginal Central Australia
SARAH E. HOLCOMBE

July 2018 320pp
9781503606470 PB £23.99
9781503605107 HB £72.00

Stanford Studies in Human Rights
Stanford University Press

Explores the contradictions and tensions of localized human rights work in far-flung indigenous communities. Based on four years of intensive fieldwork with the Anangu of Central Australia, this book investigates how universal human rights are understood, practiced, negotiated, and challenged in concert and in conflict with indigenous rights. Holcombe reveals how, in the post-colonial Australian context, human rights are double-edged: they enforce assimilation to a neoliberal social order at the same time that they empower and enfranchise the Indigenous citizen as a political actor. The book writes Australia's Indigenous peoples into the international debate on localizing rights in multicultural terms.

Speaking of Indigenous Politics

Conversations with Activists, Scholars, and Tribal Leaders

EDITED BY J. KEHAULANI KAUANUI
FOREWORD BY ROBERT WARRIOR

June 2018 424pp
9781517904784 PB £20.99
9781517904777 HB £83.00

Indigenous Americas
University of Minnesota Press

Many people learn about Indigenous politics only through the most controversial and confrontational news: the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe's efforts to block the Dakota Access Pipeline, for instance. J. Kehaulani Kauanui set out to change that with her radio program Indigenous Politics. Issue by issue, she interviewed people who talked candidly and in an engaging way about how settler colonialism depends on erasing Native peoples and about how Native peoples resist. Collected here, these conversations speak with clear and compelling voices about a range of Indigenous politics that shape everyday life.

We Are Dancing for You

Native Feminisms and the Revitalization of Women's Coming-of-Age Ceremonies
CUTCHA RISLING BALDY

May 2018 216pp
9780295743448 PB £23.99
9780295743431 HB £72.00

Indigenous Confluences
University of Washington Press

This title is Baldy's deeply personal account of the revitalization of the women's coming-of-age ceremony for the Hoopa Valley Tribe. At the end of the twentieth century, the tribe's Flower Dance had not been fully practiced for decades. The women of the tribe, recognizing the critical importance of the tradition, undertook its revitalization using the memories of elders and details found in museum archives, anthropological records, and oral histories. Baldy brings us the voices of people transformed by cultural revitalization, including the accounts of young women who have participated in the Flower Dance.

Sharing Breath

Embodied Learning and Decolonization

EDITED BY SHEILA BATACHARYA & YUK-LIN RENITA WONG

February 2018 440pp

9781771991919 PB £37.00

OPEL

Athabasca University Press

Embodiment scholars suggest that investigations into the profound division created by privileging the mind-intellect over the body-spirit are integral to the project of decolonization. The contributors engage thoughtfully with decolonization and make a substantial, and sometimes unsettling, contribution to critical studies in education.

The Right to be Cold
 One Woman's Fight to Protect the Arctic and Save the Planet from Climate Change
SHEILA WATT-COULTIER
 FOREWORD BY BILL MCKIBBEN
 May 2018 368pp
 9781517904975 PB £18.99
University of Minnesota Press
 Presents the human story of life on the front lines of climate change, told by a woman who rose from humble beginnings to become one of the most influential Indigenous environmental, cultural, and human rights advocates in the world.

The Bungling Host
 The Nature of Indigenous Oral Literature
DANIEL CLÉMENT
 TRANSLATED BY PETER FROST
 August 2018 558pp
 46 figures, 16 tables, 4 maps
 9781496206053 PB £32.00
 9781496200877 HB £56.00
University of Nebraska Press
 The Bungling Host motif appears in countless indigenous cultures. Clément gathers over four hundred North American variants of the story to explore how myths acquire meaning and how seemingly absurd narratives can prove to be a rich in meaning.

The Creator's Game
 Lacrosse, Identity, and Indigenous Nationhood
ALLAN DOWNEY
 December 2017 368pp
 58 photos
 9780774836029 HB £75.99
UBC Press
 Lacrosse has been central to Indigenous cultures for centuries, but once non-Indigenous players entered the sport, it became a site of appropriation – then reclamation – of Indigenous identities. Downy focuses on the history of lacrosse in Indigenous communities from the 1860s to the 1990s.

The Inconvenient Indian
 A Curious Account of Native People in North America
THOMAS KING
 February 2018 304pp
 9781517904463 PB £12.99
University of Minnesota Press
 Offers a deeply knowing, darkly funny, unabashedly opinionated, and utterly unconventional account of Indian–White relations in North America since initial contact. Both timeless and timely, the book rejects the pessimism and cynicism with which Natives and Whites regard one another to chart a way forward for Indians and non-Indians alike.

The Omaha Language and the Omaha Way
 An Introduction to Omaha Language and Culture
EDITED BY MARK AWAKUNI-SWETLAND
 August 2018 924pp
 191 illus., 193 tables, 1 map, 3 photos, 19 figures
 9780803211476 HB £60.00
University of Nebraska Press
 Offers a linguistic foundation for tribal members, students, scholars, and laypersons, featuring Omaha community lessons, the standard Macy orthography, and UNL orthography all under one cover.

 June 2018 220pp
 14 photos
 9780774835091 NIP £24.99
UBC Press
 Powerful and inspiring, this book illuminates a new facet of Indigenous sovereignty – the use of media tactics to infuse Canadian culture with Indigenous perspectives and to raise political and cultural consciousness in Indigenous communities.

Who Controls the Hunt?
 First Nations, Treaty Rights, and Wildlife Conservation in Ontario, 1783-1939
DAVID CALVERLEY
 February 2018 224pp
 1 map
 9780774831338 HB £72.00
Nature | History | Society
UBC Press
 As sport hunting became more popular, the value of Ontario's wildlife grew. Calverly examines how the provincial wildlife conservation laws that emerged in response reconciled – or failed to reconcile – First Nations treaty rights and the power of the state.

Yup'ik Words of Wisdom
 Yup'ik Qanruyutait, New Edition
EDITED BY ANN FIENUP-RIORDAN
