Popular Feminism and Popular Misogyny

SARAH BANET-WEISER

November 2018 240pp 33 illus.

9781478002918 £18.99 PB

9781478001683 £73.00 HB

DUKE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Sarah Banet-Weiser examines the deeply entwined relationship between popular feminism and popular misogyny as it plays out in advertising, online and multi-media platforms, and nonprofit and commercial campaigns. Examining feminist discourses that emphasize self-confidence, body positivity, and individual achievement alongside violent misogynist phenomena such as revenge porn, toxic geek masculinity, and men's rights movements, Banet-Weiser traces how popular feminism and popular misogyny are co-constituted. From Black Girls Code and the Always #LikeAGirl campaign to GamerGate and the 2016 Presidential election, Banet-Weiser shows how popular feminism is met with a misogynistic backlash of mass harassment, assault, and institutional neglect. In so doing, she contends that popular feminism's problematic commitment to visibility limits its potential and collective power.

Histories of the Transgender Child

9781517904661 £77.00 HB

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA PRESS

A groundbreaking twentieth-century history of transgender children With transgender rights front and center in American politics, media, and culture, the pervasive myth still exists that today's transgender children are a brand new generation—pioneers in a field of new obstacles and hurdles. Histories of the Transgender Child shatters this myth, uncovering a previously unknown twentieth-century history when transgender children not only existed but preexisted the term transgender and its predecessors, playing a central role in the medicalization of trans people, and all sex and gender. Beginning with the early 1900s when children with "ambiguous" sex first sought medical attention, to the 1930s when transgender people began to seek out doctors involved in altering children's sex, to the invention of the category gender, and finally the 1960s and '70s when, as the field institutionalized, transgender children began to take hormones, change their names, and even access gender confirmation, Julian Gill-Peterson reconstructs the medicalization and racialization of children's bodies.

My Butch Career

A Memoir

ESTHER NEWTON

November 2018 272pp 25 illus.

9781478001294 £22.99 HB

DUKE UNIVERSITY PRESS

In My Butch Career Newton tells the compelling, disarming, and at times sexy story of her struggle to write, teach, and find love, all while coming to terms with her identity during a particularly intense time of homophobic persecution in the twentieth century. Newton recounts a series of traumas and conflicts, from being molested as a child to her failed attempts to live a "normal," straight life in high school and college. She discusses being denied tenure at Queens College—despite having written the foundational Mother Camp—and nearly again so at SUNY Purchase. With humor and grace, she describes the influence her father Saul's strong masculinity had on her, her introduction to middle-class gay life, and her love affairs—including one with a well-known abstract painter and another with a French academic she met on a spur-of-the-moment trip to Mexico and with whom she traveled throughout France and Switzerland. By age forty, where Newton's narrative ends, she began to achieve personal and scholarly stability in the company of the first politicized generation of out lesbian and gay scholars with whom she helped create gender and sexuality studies.

Undermining Intersectionality

The Perils of Powerblind Feminism

BARBARA TOMLINSON

November 2018 280pp

9781439916506 £53.00 HB

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Esteemed scholar Barbara Tomlinson asserts that intersectionality—the idea that categories such as gender, race, and class create overlapping systems of oppression—is consistently misinterpreted in feminist argument. Despite becoming a central theme in feminist scholarship and activism, Tomlinson believes dominant feminism has failed to fully understand the concept. Undermining Intersectionality reveals that this apparent paradox is the result of the disturbing racial politics underlying over two decades of critiques of intersectionality produced by prominent white feminist scholars who have been insufficiently attentive to racial dynamics. As such, feminist critiques of intersectionality repeatedly reinforce racial hierarchies, undermining academic feminism's supposed commitment to social justice. Tomlinson offers a persuasive analysis of the rhetorics and conventions of argument used in these critiques to demonstrate their systematic reliance on "powerblind" discursive practices. Undermining Intersectionality concludes by presenting suggestions about concrete steps feminist researchers, readers, authors, and editors can take to promote more productive and principled engagements with intersectional thinking.

Explores the relationship between global political ideologies and pan-Indigenous politics. Nickel demonstrates that the articulation of unity was heavily negotiated between Union of BC Indian Chiefs members, grassroots constituents, and Indigenous women's organizations, unsettling dominant narratives that cast Indigenous men as reactive and indigenous women as apolitical.

Believing Women in Islam

A Brief Introduction
ASMA BARLAS & DAVID RAEBURN FINN
January 2019 120pp
9781477315880 £14.99 PB
UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS PRESS

A Brief Introduction presents the arguments of Believing Women in a simplified way that will be accessible and inviting to general readers and undergraduate students. The authors focus primarily on the Qur'an's teachings about women and patriarchy. They show how traditional teachings about women's inferiority are not supported by the Qur'an but were products of patriarchal societies that used it to justify their existing religious and social structures.

Daughters of 1968

Redefining French Feminism and the Women's Liberation Movement

LISA GREENWALD

January 2019 420pp 9 illus., index
9781496207555 £50.00 HB
UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA PRESS

Daughters of 1968 is the story of French feminism between 1944 and 1981, when feminism played a central political role in the history of France. The key women during this epoch were often leftists committed to a materialist critique of society and were part of a postwar tradition that produced widespread social change, revamping the workplace and laws governing everything from abortion to marriage.

9781478000679 £80.00 HB
DUKE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Paints a full and dynamic portrait of Daniel's deep commitment to leftist politics, using Daniel's personal and political experiences to investigate the opposition to Brazil's military dictatorship, the left's construction of a revolutionary masculinity, and the challenge that the transition to democracy posed to radical movements.

Female Masculinity

JACK HALBERSTAM

December 2018 360pp 38 illus.
9781478001621 £20.99 PB
9781478001270 £81.00 HB
DUKE UNIVERSITY PRESS

In this quintessential work of queer theory, Halberstam takes aim at the protected status of male masculinity and shows that female masculinity has offered an alternative to it for well over two centuries. In this twentieth anniversary edition —which features a new preface by the author —Halberstam uncovers a hidden history of female masculinities, cataloging the diversity of gender expressions among masculine women from nineteenth-century pre-lesbian practices to contemporary drag king performances.

Feminist Accountability

Disrupting Violence and Transforming Power

ANN RUSSO

9780814777152 £22.99 PB
9780814777169 £68.00 HB
NEW YORK UNIVERSITY PRESS

Grounded in theories, analyses, and politics developed by feminists of color and transnational feminists of the global south, with her own thirty plus years of participation in community building, organizing, and activism, Russo provides insider expertise and critical reflection on leveraging frameworks of accountability to upend inequitable divides and the culture that supports them.

Gay, Inc.

The Nonprofitization of Queer Politics

MYRL BEAM

July 2018 256pp
9781517901790 £18.99 PB
9781517901783 £77.00 HB
UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA PRESS

What if the structure on which social movements rely, the nonprofit system, is reinforcing the inequalities activists seek to eliminate? That is the question at the heart of this bold reassessment of the system's massive expansion since the mid-1960s. Focusing on the LGBT movement, Beam argues that the conservative turn in queer movement politics, as exemplified by the shift toward marriage and legal equality, is due mostly to the movement's embrace of the nonprofit structure.

Gender, Power, and Representations of Cree Law

EMILY SNYDER

October 2018 248pp
9780774835695 £28.99 NIP
UBC PRESS

Drawing on the insights of Indigenous feminist legal theory, Emily Snyder examines representations of Cree law and gender in books, videos, graphic novels, educational websites, online lectures, and a video game. Although these resources promote the revitalization of Cree law and the principle of miyo-wîcêhtowin (good relations), Snyder argues that they do not capture the complexities of gendered power relations.

Gold Rush Manliness

Race and Gender on the Pacific Slope

CHRISTOPHER HERBERT

2 maps

9780295744124 £22.99 PB

9780295744131 £69.00 HB

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON PRESS

Examining the gold rushes in California and British Columbia, Herbert shows that men worried about the meaning of their manhood in the near-anarchic, ethnically mixed societies that grew up around the mines. As white gold rushers emigrated west, they encountered a range of people they considered inferior and dangerous to white dominance.

Growing Up Queer

Kids and the Remaking of LGBTQ Identity of the medieval female experience.

Combining the rigour of research with the thrill and empathy of narrative, this is a provocative investigation into the biographies of sixteen medieval heroines.

The Gay Marriage Generation

How the LGBTQ Movement
Transformed American Culture

PETER HART-BRINSON

October 2018 320pp
9781479826230 £22.99 PB
9781479800513 £68.00 HB
NEW YORK UNIVERSITY PRESS

How did gay marriage come to feel inevitable to even its staunchest opponents? Drawing on over 95 interviews with two generations, as well as historical analysis and public opinion data, Hart-Brinson argues that a fundamental shift in our understanding of homosexuality sparked the generational change that fueled gay marriage's unprecedented rise.

The Last Suffragist Standing

UBC PRESS

The Last Suffragist Standing is an unprecedented study of a pioneering politician, a New Woman who tested Canadian democracy. Laura Marshall Jamieson (1882–1964) was the last suffragist in Canada to be elected to a provincial or federal legislature, and her biography opens a window into the political and social landscape of her time.

The Nature of Masculinity

Critical Theory, New Materialisms, and Technologies of Embodiment

STEVE GARLICK

Sexuality Studies
September 2018 236pp
9780774833301 £24.99 NIP
UBC PRESS

Drawing on works by the Frankfurt School, Heidegger, and new materialist theories, Garlick reassesses the relationship between masculinity, nature, and embodiment, proposing that masculinity is a technology that shapes both our engagement with the natural world and how we define freedom.

The Queer Commons

NADJA MILLNER-LARSEN

September 2018 140pp
9781478003502 £9.99 PB
DUKE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Forges a connection between the common and the queer, asking how the category “queer” might open up a discourse that has emerged as one of the most important challenges to contemporary neoliberalization at both the theoretical and practical level.
Contributors look to radical networks of care, sex, and activism within diverse queer communities including HIV/AIDS organizing, the Wages for Housework movement, New York's Clit Club community, and trans/queer collectives in San Francisco.

An updated edition of this measured, practical, and timely guide to LGBT rights and issues for educators and officials. Biegel explains what K–12 schools should do to implement right-to-be-out policies and examines recent legal and public policy changes that affect LGBT students and educators in the public school system.

The Selected Papers of Jane Addams

Vol. 3: Creating Hull-House and an International Presence, 1889-1900

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS PRESS

These papers, letters, and other documents reveal Addams' positions on reform challenges while illuminating her strategies, successes, and responses to failures. Simultaneously, the collection brings to light Addams's private life.
Fully annotated and packed with illustrations, this is a portrait of a woman as she changed and as she changed history.

Toxic Shock

A Social History

SHARRA L. VOSTRAL

Biopolitics

November 2018 240pp

9781479815494 £20.99 PB

9781479877843 £68.00 HB

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY PRESS

The first and definitive history of TSS. Vostral shows how commercial interests negatively affected women's health outcomes; the insufficient testing of the first super-absorbency tampon; how TSS became a 'women's disease,' for which women must constantly monitor their own bodies. Further, Vostral discusses the awkward, veiled and vague ways public health officials and the media discussed the risks of contracting TSS.

Trans Exploits

Trans of Color Cultures and Technologies in Movement

9781478000662 £69.00 HB

DUKE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Focusing on performance, film/video, literature, digital media, and other forms of cultural expression and activism that track the displaced emergences of trans of color people, Chen highlights the complex and varied responses by trans communities to their social dispossession.

Transnational Testimonios

The Politics of Collective Knowledge Production

PATRICIA DEROCHE

October 2018 248pp

9780295743912 £22.99 PB

9780295743905 £69.00 HB

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON PRESS

The activist storytelling practice of testimonio, long associated with Latin American struggles for justice, forges coalitions across social differences for the purpose of social change. DeRocher examines testimonios from various geopolitical sites, including Argentina, Egypt, Haiti and India, and suggests that feminist testimonios offer a model for cross-border feminist alliance building.

Unruly Visions

The Aesthetic Practices of Queer Diaspora

Vexy Thing

On Gender and Liberation

IMANI PERRY

September 2018 304pp 1 illus.

9781478000815 £19.99 PB

9781478000600 £76.00 HB

DUKE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Perry shows how the figure of the patriarch emerged through modernity, the nation-state, the Industrial Revolution, and globalization. She also outlines how technology, neoliberalism, and the security state continue to prop up patriarchy. By exploring patriarchy's past and present, Perry exposes its mechanisms of domination as a necessary precursor to dismantling it.

Women at Work in Twenty-First-Century European Cinema

BARBARA MENNEL

January 2019 272pp

9780252083952 £20.99 PB

9780252042225 £76.00 HB

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS PRESS

Looking at independent and genre films from across Europe, Menne sees a focus on economics and work adapted to the continent's varied kinds of capitalism, influenced by second-wave feminism. Her analysis shows that these films contain a complex counterpoint of dynamics as they address the changing nature of work in Europe.

Women's Political Activism in Palestine

Peacebuilding, Resistance, and Survival

SOPHIE RICHTER-DEVROE
